

Youth Radio and Podcast Project

Youth Radio & Podcast project is a three month pilot program promoting and exploring youth resources available in Winnipeg's inner city. The goal of the program is to develop youth-led radio talk shows which will engage youth listeners through motivational stories shared by influential youth speakers and spread awareness about the available mental health, harm reduction, housing, employment and healthcare resources.

The talk show is an interactive avenue to discuss challenges faced by inner city youths during the post pandemic period and strategies to cope with those issues, promote resources, programs and opportunities available for youths as well as spread the strong messages of hope, resilience, inclusivity, and empowerment.

The radio show is hosted by two youths (Ridwan & Natnael) and is on air every Tuesdays, 5 pm on CKUW FM until September 5. Executive Directors and Program Managers from various youth serving organizations are invited to the show to discuss the programs and services they are offering to the youths. The radio show will also be available at SNA TV youtube channel as well as air on Shaw Spotlight.

Environment & Open Spaces

Your EOS department has been lucky to have a large crew of youth, many from SNA's First Jobs 4 Youth program. They have been taking care of community gardens in the neighbourhood by mowing the grass, keeping them clean, watering, weeding and maintaining beds. Some of their successes include: a picnic table at kids garden, a 3 bin compost at Sunshine garden and a new shed at Community Greenhouse site. As well, they helped out at garden parties on Langside & Maryland. Thanks guys!

As the fall approaches, we'll be harvesting veggies and putting beds to bed with compost & mulch. Potted plants will get moved inside the greenhouse to extend the growing season. And we'll start planning workshops and community consultations to keep us busy over the winter. Please get in touch: greenhouse@spenceneighbourhood.org or (204) 783-2834).
